Key Points

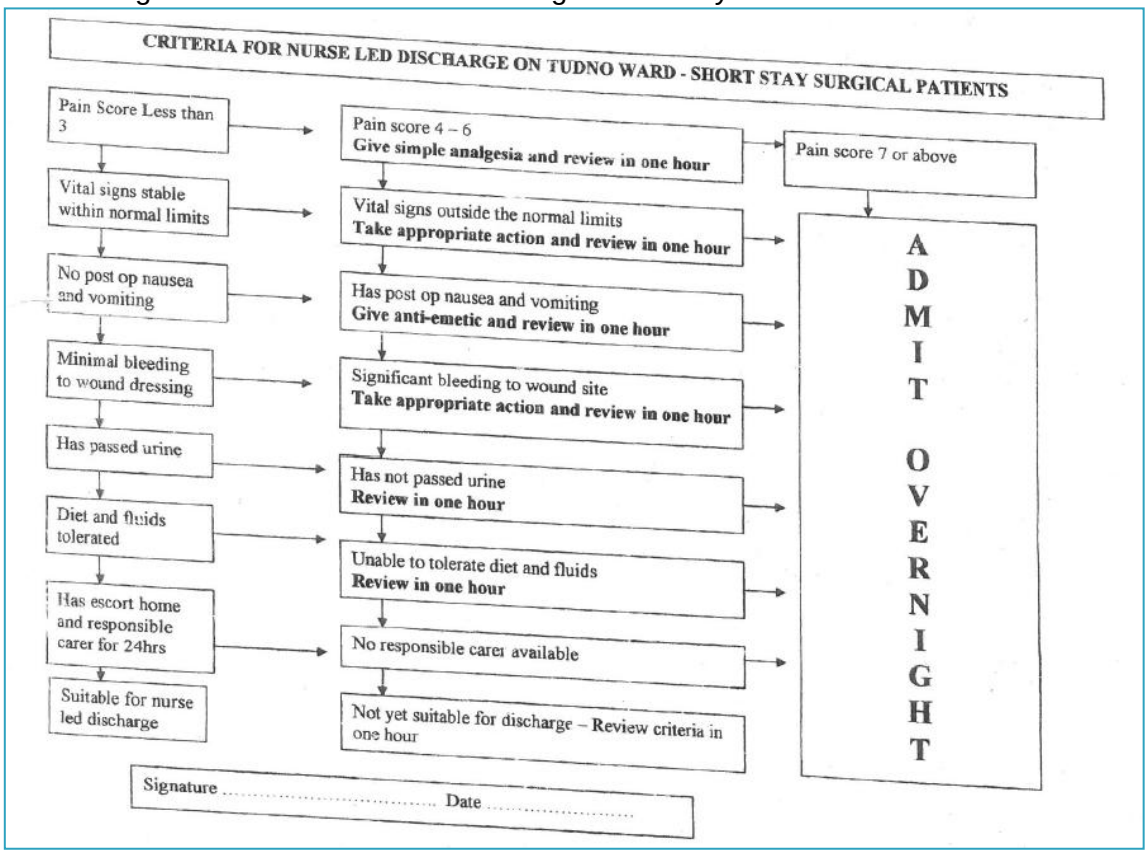

- Ensure patients meet criteria to be a day case
- If a patient doesn't reach the discharge criteria the surgical and anaesthetic teams should be informed and the patient's responsible adult contacted

Background

Patients will be contacted the day before admission to ensure they qualify as day-cases.

LLGH only does day case adult surgery. There are no facilities for surgical day case patients to be admitted overnight to Llandudno Hospital (LLGH). Patients would need to be admitted to Ysbyty Gwynedd (YG). The historical frequency of hospital admission is once every 5 years. This guideline is to assist the process, should this become necessary.

Patients are discharged from the LLGH Maesdu Surgical Ward by the same nurse led criteria as in YG:

Patients not reaching these criteria are admitted as in-patients to YG either to Critical Care or a Level 1 ward.

If the patient requires Critical Care, the Anaesthetist in LLGH will contact the Consultant Anaesthetist responsible for ITU in Ysbyty Gwynedd and arrange admission. The Consultant Anaesthetist will escort the patient in the ambulance giving clinical support as necessary. N.B. EMRTS are available (via the Critical Care Desk on 0300 1232301), for assistance in the resuscitation, stabilisation and transfer of time critical patients via the EMRTS. Alternatively, contact WAST. Both these services may be contacted via switchboard.

For patients requiring level 1 care, the anaesthetist will coordinate the transfer & either accompany the patient themselves or arrange the appropriate personnel to accompany the patient to the ward in YG.

The process of admission is outlined below.

Admission Process

1. The patient's nominated nurse will inform the Maesdu Ward Sister that the patient requires transfer to Ysbyty Gwynedd.
2. The Maesdu Sister will contact the appropriate ward and request a bed.
3. If there is no bed available, the Maesdu Sister will contact the YG Bed Manager (Bleep 021) who will organise an appropriate bed.
4. The Maesdu Ward Sister will liaise the Anaesthetic and Surgical Team who will contact the appropriate Anaesthetic and Surgical Team in YG to arrange clinical cover for the patient in YG.
5. The Surgical team in YG will clerk the patient and manage the clinical aspect of the admission.
6. The Anaesthetist, or if out of hours, the on call Anaesthetic team, will give anaesthetic support.
7. The Ward Sister will ensure the Patient Information System is updated with the patient's details.
8. The Responsible Adult for the patient will be contacted to explain the situation.
